Addendum To Google Pay Terms: Google Pay Terms Of Service For India Non-Residents

GOOGLE PAY TERMS OF SERVICE FOR INDIA RESIDENTS

Last Updated: July 31, 2026

1. Introduction

Applicable Terms. Thank you for using Google Pay. For purposes of the Combined Google Pay Terms (defined below), "Google Pay" is a service that is provided to users resident in India by Google India Digital Services Private Limited with registered office at 5th floor, DLF Centre, Block 124, Narindra Place, Sansad Marg, New Delhi - 110001 ("Google"), and was previously named Tez. By accessing, downloading or using Google Pay, you agree to comply with and be bound by the following:

1. the Google Terms of Service (the "Universal Terms");
2. this Google Pay Terms of Service for India Residents (the "Google Pay Terms");
3. the Google Privacy Policy (the "Privacy Policy");
4. the Google Pay Policies (the "Google Pay Policies");
5. Google Pay Offer Terms of Services ("General Google Pay Offers Terms"); and
6. the Google Pay Complaints Handling Policy ("Complaints Handling Policy").

These six documents are collectively referred to herein as the "Combined Google Pay Terms."

Please read each of these Combined Google Pay Terms carefully, starting with the Universal Terms as they contain important information about your legal rights, remedies and obligations. These Combined Google Pay Terms constitute a legally binding agreement between you and Google governing your access to and use of the Google Pay Services (as herein defined). If you do not understand these documents or do not accept any part of them, then you should not use the Google Pay Services. You understand that services may be offered incrementally on Google Pay, and that these Combined Google Pay Terms may be applicable accordingly.

Use of Google Group Companies. You also understand and hereby agree that Google reserves the right to use the services of its Group Companies (as herein defined) to provide any of the Google Pay Services to you, on behalf of Google.

You further understand and agree that Google reserves the right to update any of these Combined Google Pay Terms from time to time. You must ensure that you keep yourself up-to-date and read the Combined Google Pay Terms at close intervals. If there is any conflict between these Google Pay Terms and the Universal Terms, these Google Pay Terms will prevail.

By accepting the Combined Google Pay Terms, you represent and warrant the following:

- You are 18 years of age or older;
- You are capable of entering into a legally binding agreement; and Permission by parent or legal guardian. If you are under 18 years of age ("Teen(s)"), you represent that you have your parent or legal guardian's permission to use Google Pay. Please have them read and accept the Combined Google Pay Terms with you.

If you are a parent or legal guardian of a Teen, by allowing the Teen to use Google Pay, you are subject to the terms of the Combined Google Pay Terms and responsible for your Teen's activity on Google Pay. Teens, therefore, cannot use Google Pay unless their parent or legal guardian agrees to the Combined Google Pay Terms on the Teen's behalf.

Third Party Terms and Conditions. Google may facilitate provision of third party products or services to you within Google Pay. In order to use these third party products or services, you may need to accept additional terms and conditions and meet additional requirements.

3. Scope of Google Pay Services

Google Pay ("Google Pay" or "Google Pay App") is a payment solution application which facilitates Google Pay Service. Through Google Pay, you may send payments to service providers, Users, Merchants, Billers or third parties using any Payment Instruments accepted through Google Pay. You may also receive payments from other Users or third parties in the Payment Instrument you designated in Google Pay to receive funds. In addition, Google Pay allows you to communicate with or receive communications, offers and services from other Users, service providers, Banks, Merchants and Billers. In relation to UPI Payment Transactions, Google Pay is a TPAP authorised by NPCI to facilitate Payment Transactions through HDFC Bank, Axis Bank, ICICI Bank and State Bank of India. We are a service provider and participate in UPI through PSP Banks. We are bound by tripartite agreements entered with NPCI and each of our sponsor PSP’s - HDFC Bank, ICICI Bank, Axis Bank and State Bank of India. For the exact roles and responsibilities of Google Pay, PSP and NPCI in a UPI Payment Transaction, please refer here. For the avoidance of doubt, in relation to UPI Transactions, you are subject to that PSP's terms and conditions. Further, the use and processing by a PSP Bank of your personal data available to the PSP Bank during or pursuant to UPI Transactions is subject to the privacy policy available on the PSP Bank's website.

Google Pay may facilitate provision of third party products or services to you within Google Pay. These third party products or services are offered by parties other than Google, and are subject to third party terms. You may need to accept additional terms and conditions and meet additional requirements to use these third party services. You should only transact with a third party product or service that you trust. Google will not be responsible or liable to you for any loss incurred by you as a result of your interaction with a third party product or service on Google Pay.

Mechanics of Payment Transaction. The Payment Transactions or any communication/offers carried out through Google Pay are solely between the Sender and Recipient of the payment. Google Pay creates a link between the Sender, the Recipient and the respective Payments System Providers to facilitate sending and/or receiving payments using Payments System Provider Services. Once a Payment Transaction has been authenticated, authorised and processed through the Payments System Provider Services:

(i) the payment may be settled directly with the Recipient by the respective Payments Participants; or payment collection agent for the limited purpose of accepting funds from Users.

Google's Role in Payment Transactions. You understand and agree to the following:

- Google is only a facilitator of Payment Transactions.
- Google is not a party to these Payment Transactions.
- Google is not a Payments System Provider.
- Google may, in certain scenarios, act as an intermediary and operate as a payment collection agent for the limited purpose of receiving funds on behalf of the Recipient.
- Google is not and will not be responsible for any aspect of the products or services you purchase.
- Google is not and will not be responsible for any communications made by you or any communication or offers made to you through Google Pay.
- Google is not a party to and will not be responsible for any disputes, chargebacks or reversals arising pursuant to Payment Transactions.
- Google is not responsible for any act of Users, including, non-completion of a Transaction.
- The facilitation of a Transaction does not guarantee that the Sender has sufficient funds available in the Funding Account he or she used, that the Transaction will be authorized or processed, or that the Transaction will not later result in a chargeback or other reversal.
- Google is neither acting as a trustee nor acting in a fiduciary capacity with respect to any Payment Transaction.
- Google does not determine, advise or in any manner control the commercial terms of the Payment Transaction, including the price of products and services offered for sale.

Disclaimer of Google's Liability. Google is not responsible for any aspect of the products or services you purchase or for any communications or offers made to you. Google's role as a payment collection agent for the Recipient will not make Google liable or responsible for breach of representations and warranties, non-provision of after-sales or warranty services or fraud vis-a-vis the products and/or services sold by a Merchant.

Bill Payment Services. Google Pay facilitates bill payment services that allow You to view Your bills or eligible pre-paid plans and make payments to Billers through the Google Pay App. You understand that the Bill Payment Services provided through Google Pay are either provided (i) by a Bharat Connect Operating Unit ("BCOU") under the Bharat Connect ("BC") infrastructure, where the Biller is registered with NPCI to participate within BC; or (ii) by a Biller aggregator with whom Google has entered into a contractual arrangement. You further understand that Google Pay only facilitates bill presentment and bill payment and is either (i) an agent of the BCOU in accordance with Applicable Law, where the Biller is registered with NPCI for BC; or (ii) a bill payment facilitator through integrations with third parties providing these services, eg; prepaid recharges through resellers/distributors of these recharges and/or through direct integration with telecom service providers.

Credit Card Services. Google Pay provides a technology platform for display of Credit Card offers from Credit Institutions to You. You understand and agree that the terms of any such Credit Card shall be governed by the terms of the agreements executed between You and the Credit Institution for such Credit Card. Google is not a party to such agreements and has no role and does not make any representations, warranties or guarantees of approval or decline of the Card Application, which shall be at the sole discretion of the Credit Institution issuing the Credit Card. Google's role vis-a-vis such Credit Cards shall be limited to providing Pay users (e.g., Axis Bank ACE Card, which is issued by Axis Bank and marketed in collaboration with Google).

Loan Facility Services. Google Pay provides a technology platform for display of Loan Facility offers from Lending third parties to You. You understand and agree that the terms of such Loan Facility shall be governed by the loan agreements executed between You and the Lending third party. Google is not a party to such loan agreements and Google's role in such transactions shall be limited to that of an intermediary technology platform.

Google Pay Gold Services. Google Pay provides a technology platform to MMTC - PAMP ("MMTC") to offer Gold for sale, delivery and repurchase and other related services by MMTC to the Customers. You agree and acknowledge that the terms and conditions available at MMTC Terms govern your GAP. Google will have no liability to You in relation to Your GAP.

Business Pages. Google Pay lets you publish and operate your Business Page on Google Pay. The Business Page could feature a catalog of the available items or services to provide information about your business and list some of your products and services. You can share a URL to this page with anyone in your network. By sharing your Business Page, you understand and agree that your profile picture and name will be shared and available publicly. Using Business Pages, you will be able to sell goods and services for up to INR 50,000 per month, using P2P Payments, unless otherwise permitted by Google and in compliance with Applicable Law. Google will not be a party to your transactions with a buyer of your goods or services and does not take any responsibility for the goods or services sold. Google does not exercise any control or oversight over catalogue, inventory, pricing, logistics, warehouse management, delivery or fulfillment. You will be solely responsible for managing your Business Page, its content and transactions. Google's role would merely be that of a technology service provider to you, assisting you with setting up your Business Page. Any real-time communication regarding the product or service under Business Pages would be between you and the buyer, with no Google interference. Google does not provide any customer support for Business Pages or assist in tracking status of a transaction. Google makes no warranty and shall bear no obligation on the quality of the products, services or information obtained by a user on Business Pages, or that such products or services will meet the user's expectations. You will be responsible towards your customers for any complaints or disputes that they have, and Google shall not be responsible for any customer grievance on Business Pages. In case you are unwilling or unable to meet the terms of service for this feature, you must delete your Business Page at any point using the management options provided in the app.

Mutual Fund Services. Google Pay provides access to and displays mutual fund related information, including but not limited to scheme details, NAVs, returns, holdings, ratios, analytics, comparisons, ratings, classifications, and other content relating to securities, which may be sourced from Advisors on the Google Pay App. Google plays no role in the generation, validation, or modification of this information, and its role is limited to that of a technology platform provider.

AI-Powered Financial Assistance. Google Pay provides an AI-powered chatbot to assist Users with financial data organization, spend analysis, and retrieval or summarization of independent third-party market information, as detailed in Section 24.

4. Your Use of Google Pay with the Combined Google Pay Terms. You will be responsible for all actions these individuals take in and/or through your Google Account on Google Pay.

Territorial Restrictions. To use Google Pay, you will need to be physically located in India when registering or linking your Google Account on Google Pay, have an Indian bank account and an Indian mobile number. The Google Pay App should not be used outside of India.

Basic Use Requirements. You will need a mobile, internet or any other supported device ("Device") that meets certain system and compatibility requirements, which may change from time to time to use Google Pay. Your ability to use Google Pay and the performance of Google Pay App may be affected by these factors. You agree that you are responsible for such requirements, including any applicable changes, updates, fees and all other terms provided under your agreement with your mobile device and telecommunications provider. Google will not be responsible for any lapse of security or failed Transactions due to your internet or Device service provider.

Updates. You may need to install updates to your Google Pay App or related Google software that Google introduces from time to time to access, use, or continue to use Google Pay Services. Your Google Pay App may communicate with Google servers from time to time to check for available updates to Google Pay, such as bug fixes, patches, enhanced functions, missing plug-ins and new versions (collectively, "Updates"). Your use of Google Pay requires that you have agreed to receive such automatically requested Updates. If you do not agree to such automatically requested and received Updates, then please do not use the Google Pay App. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Google may update the Google Pay App to a new version of such app, irrespective of any update settings that you may have selected within the Google Pay App or your device, if Google determines that the update will fix a critical security vulnerability related to the Google Pay App.

5. Setting Up Google Pay Services

You must have a Google Account to use Google Pay. If you do not already have a Google Account, you can register for one on Google Pay. When you login to your Google Account on Google Pay, your Google Pay Services will be activated, subject to you accepting these Combined Google Pay Terms. If you disable your Google account, all related accounts, including your Google Pay account will be suspended. You can seek restoration of the Google Account, which will also restore your access to your Google Pay Account. It is possible that as a result of disabling the Google Account by you, some account specific data may be lost or purged and may not be retrievable. You agree and accept that Google is not responsible for the loss of data or any other damage suffered by you as a result of the closure of the Google account by you and its subsequent restoration.

During the login/registration process or anytime thereafter, you may be asked to provide information such as your name, phone number, Payment Instrument information (including, but not limited to, your bank name and bank account number, credit card/debit card details, if applicable), date of birth, and/or other registration information. We may verify your registration information with a Payment Participant, service provider, and/or Third Party Provider, as defined below. In some cases, we may ask you to send us additional information/documentation or to answer additional questions (before or after your Google Account on Google Pay has been activated) to help us verify your identity or the accuracy of the information you provided. The provision and use of such data is subject to the Google Privacy Policy, as described more fully in Section 22 below. We may deny your use of the Google Pay Services, if we are unable to verify that the Rules.

Setting up BHIM UPI Services. If you desire to use BHIM UPI to send or receive payments, you may use Google Pay to register with a BHIM UPI Payments System Provider partnered with Google and create your BHIM UPI user credentials, such as your BHIM UPI ID (virtual payment address) and/or BHIM UPI PIN (MPIN) linked. Once you have registered for BHIM UPI services, you can send payments from your bank account or receive payments into your bank account using BHIM UPI through Google Pay.

Setting up Biometric authentication for UPI Payments. In addition to setting up UPI PIN to complete UPI Transactions, Biometric authentication is an alternate feature that allows you to authorize such transactions using biometric identifiers that are already enrolled and stored on your smartphone like fingerprint or face unlock ("Biometrics/Biometric Data"). By enabling this feature, you can complete UPI Transactions quickly and securely without the need to manually enter your UPI PIN. You understand that the eligibility of the UPI Transactions that allow the use of Biometric Data will be subject to the Applicable Law.

By enabling biometric authentication within Google Pay, you agree and specifically consent to the use of your Biometric Data to authorize UPI Transactions. You acknowledge and agree that your Biometric Data is used solely for the purpose of authentication and is processed entirely on your device using its built-in security features. To clarify, Google Pay, PSP Bank or NPCI do not access, store, or transmit your biometric data to its servers or any external third party.

Furthermore, you understand and agree that any person whose Biometrics are enrolled on your device may be able to authorize UPI Transactions through Google Pay. Consequently, you are solely responsible for managing the enrollment and use of Biometric Data on your device and understand the legal and financial implications of shared device access. You may withdraw your consent to the use of Biometric Data for authentication of UPI Transactions at any time by disabling biometric authentication within the Google Pay application settings.

UPI Number and Onboarding to Centralised UPI Mapper. You understand and agree that Google will assign a UPI Number to your Google Account on Google Pay to enable you to use Google Pay Services in relation to UPI using your UPI Number. You further agree and specifically consent to Google onboarding you on the centralised mapper operated by the NPCI (i.e., the Numeric UPI ID Mapper) and any other databases as the NPCI may require and notify from time to time. The 'UPI Number' will be your [registered mobile number] by default, and by agreeing to allow the onboarding of your UPI Number to the centralised mapper(s) of the NPCI, you will be able to send and / or receive funds on the Google Pay App using your 'UPI Number'. The onboarding process will be in accordance with the NPCI's guidelines and directions. You understand and agree that Google is entitled to act as per the instructions of the NPCI, which includes (without limitation) sharing your UPI details with the NPCI and linking your primary bank account or your UPI ID (virtual payment address) to your 'UPI Number'. Once onboarded in the centralised mapper(s), you will be able to use your UPI Number to send and / or receive funds. You may choose to delink the default mapping of your UPI Number at any time by [updating the settings] on the Google Pay App.

Setting up a Virtual Account Number. You may also use Google Pay to make Payment Transactions using a bank-issued virtual account number representing a credit or debit card you register with Google Pay, transit passes, and digital wallets or accounts that you have with companies other than Google (each a "Virtual Account Number"). Virtual Account Numbers may be used: (i) at participating merchant locations, using a QR code through your Google Pay App that resides on your mobile device, or (ii) online through certain only saves the Virtual Account Number.

After you have begun to add a Virtual Account Number to Google Pay, Google Pay will check whether the payment method is eligible. If your payment method's issuer supports Google Pay and your payment method is eligible, when adding it you may see a screen asking you to accept the issuer's terms and conditions. Once you have done so and successfully added the payment method, Google Pay will store a Virtual Account Number representing your payment method's actual card number or other identifier with your Google Account for use with Google Pay.

Except where Google or its affiliate is the issuer, neither Google nor its affiliates are a party to your payment methods' user agreement, privacy policy, or other terms of use. Nothing in these Combined Google Pay Terms modifies any such issuer terms. In the event of any inconsistency between these Combined Google Pay Terms and your issuer's terms or privacy policy, these Combined Google Pay Terms will govern the relationship between you and Google with respect to Google Pay, and your issuer's terms will govern the relationship between you and the issuer. Google does not make any representation or verify that any of your payment methods is in good standing or that the issuer of your payment method will authorize or approve any transaction with a merchant or transit provider when you use Google Pay for that transaction.

Except where Google or its affiliate is the issuer, neither Google nor its affiliates are involved in issuing credit or determining eligibility for credit, nor do they exercise control over: the availability or accuracy of payment methods or funds; the provisioning (or addition) of payment methods to Google Pay, or addition of funds to payment method balances. Your Issuer provides services to register or deregister your Virtual Account Number for specific uses and to set and modify Payment Transaction limits. For any concerns relating to the foregoing, please contact your payment method's issuer.

Setting up Bill Payment Services. To use the Bill Payment Services, You may be required to provide us with your bill account information for Billers with whom You would like to make payments (such as your customer account number, registered phone number or customer ID) and any other information necessary for us to access Your account and bill/plan details with such Billers ("Bill Payment Account Information"). By using the Bill Payment Services, You expressly authorize Google Pay to access, use and store Your Bill Payment Account Information and bill details on an ongoing basis, on Your behalf for the purpose of providing Bill Payment Services to You. You further expressly authorize Google Pay to share Your Bill Payment Account information and bill/plan details with relevant Bill Payment Service Participants, including but not limited to telecom service providers, to validate Your account, access Your bill/plan details, and complete Your transaction.

If you use the Bill Payment Services to provide Bill Payment Account Information, to fetch bill details, or make payments on behalf of a third party, including for mobile recharges/top ups, it is your responsibility to ensure that you have the consent of such third party. You agree that you have all necessary rights and permissions to allow Google Pay to use third party Bill Payment Account Information on an ongoing basis and access the bill details from the respective Biller, on behalf of the third party for the purpose of Google Pay providing Bill Payment Services. You agree that as between Google Pay and you, any claim raised by the third party will solely lie against you.

Accuracy of Information. You understand and agree that you are responsible for the accuracy of the information you provide for fetching a bill and/or making a payment request, including the Bill Payment Account Information and the amount of the Transaction.

and (iii) comply with the KYC requirements as may be mandated by Applicable Law.

By using Google Pay, You confirm that Your Gold Account is being set-up in Your own name and You do not have more than one Gold Account in Your name.

For cumulative lifetime purchases of Rs. 50,000 (Indian Rupee Fifty Thousand) or above or in case of initiating any transfers for Rs. 50,000 (Indian Rupee Fifty Thousand) or above, You will be required to provide a copy of Your PAN Card. In such case, You confirm and acknowledge that You have provided a true copy of Your PAN Card and it has not been forged or tampered. You acknowledge that any obligation to pay taxes on cashback amounts is fully your responsibility.

You authorize Google to make such enquiries as they may feel necessary to satisfy itself about the validity of Your identity. You undertake to update Google in case of change of Your existing information or verification documents provided by You.

Google will ask You for details of a nominee at the time of setting up Your Gold Account. In case of Your demise, the nominee, subject to providing valid documentation, will be allowed to claim the Gold in Your Gold Account.

6. Payment Participants and Third Party Providers

Communications with Payment Participants. By electing to use Google Pay, you authorize Google to communicate with Payment Participants or any Third Party Provider or service provider to provide or obtain any information, including your personal information, for the purpose of processing Transaction or providing Google Pay Services or for risk management and fraud assessment purposes. You understand that Google may also share any message that you send other Users, Merchants, Billers, at the time of requesting or making a Payment Transaction with the Payment Participants as may be required by and in accordance with Applicable Laws.

Compliance with Payment Participants' Rules. As you will be using Payment Participants' services to process your payment instructions, you consent and agree to comply with the rules, guidelines, directions, instructions, requests, etc. issued by the respective Payment Participants from time to time ("Payment Participant Rules"). You acknowledge and agree that You are responsible for keeping yourself up-to-date and complying with all such Payment Participant Rules. If You fail to comply with the obligations imposed on You by Google or the Payment Participants, we may suspend or terminate your Google Account on Google Pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the Payment Participant Rules are between you and the respective Payment Participant. Google is not liable for any actions or inactions of such Payment Participants.

Google's Use of Third Party Providers. In addition, Google may have arranged for third party providers to provide products or services to you through Google Pay ("Third Party Providers"). In order to use these products or services, you may be required to agree to additional terms and conditions from such Third Party Providers, and may be subject to additional requirements of the Third Party Provider. By agreeing to these Combined Google Pay Terms or continuing to use Google Pay Services, you hereby agree to any Third Party Provider terms that apply to your use of such products and services through Google Pay, which may be updated from time to time. For the avoidance of doubt, the Third Party Provider terms are between you and the applicable Third Party Provider, not Google. Google is not liable for any actions or inactions of such Third Party Providers.

Payment Participants or Third-Party Fees. You may incur access or data fees from the Payment Participants or Third Party Providers in connection with your use of Google Pay. You are responsible for all such fees.

Google Fees. Fees may be applied to certain Transactions or use of Google Pay Services which include but are not limited to payment for Bill Payment Services. Prior to completing each Transaction, you will be notified of any fees, if applicable, that may apply. Fees may be determined by Google in its sole discretion and any fees charged will be inclusive of all applicable taxes.

8. Transactions using Google Pay Services

Limitations on the Use of the Google Pay Service. We or Payment Participants may establish general practices and limits concerning the use of Google Pay. We reserve the right to change, suspend or discontinue any aspect of Google Pay at any time, including hours of operation or availability of Google Pay Services or any Google Pay Service feature, without notice and without liability. We also reserve the right to impose limits on certain features or restrict access to parts or all of the service without notice and without liability. We may decline to process any Payment Transaction without prior notice to Sender or Recipient. We also reserve the right to automatically block any communication received by a User from a non-Google Pay account, including any payment requests, that we deem to be spam or a fraudulent communication.

We do not warrant that the functions contained in Google Pay will be uninterrupted or error free, and we shall not be responsible for any Service interruptions (including, but not limited to, power outages, system failures or other interruptions that may affect the receipt, processing, acceptance, completion or settlement of Payment Transactions).

Transaction Limits. Each Transaction is subject to minimum and maximum Transaction limits that may be set by Google, a User, the Payment Participants or as may be prescribed under the provisions of Applicable Law. In addition, Google and the Payment Participants may also reject/suspend Transactions (in whole or in part) on your Google Account on Google Pay based on their respective policies and assessment.

Transaction Records. Records of your Transactions will be reflected in your conversation history and Transaction history in your Google Pay App. You are responsible for reviewing your Transaction activity to determine if there are any errors or unauthorised Transactions, and for alerting Google of such event, in accordance with the Combined Google Pay Terms.

Transacting with Virtual Account Numbers. When you initiate a Virtual Account Number payment or transit transaction using Google Pay, Google may pass details of your Virtual Account Number and related information to the transacting party so that it can charge your payment method. A Virtual Account Number transaction may be initiated when you: use tap-and-pay in stores or on transit services using NFC, scan barcodes, or QR codes, or other contactless technology; select “Google Pay” or “Buy with Google Pay” as a payment option in an online transaction on the third party’s website or app; or transact with the Third Party through some other online interface, such as via the Google Assistant. When you initiate an online transaction, Google Pay may also share other information, such as a billing, shipping, or email address saved in your Google Account, where relevant to completing the transaction.

After passing the payment method and other details to the third party, Google will have no further involvement in the transaction as between you and the third party, and you acknowledge and agree that such transaction is solely between you and the third party and not with Google or any of its affiliates. You should disputes.

You acknowledge that Google Pay may receive transaction information, including transaction location information, from your payment method's issuer to display richly formatted transaction details and your recent transaction history in Google Pay.

Permissible Transactions. You may only use Google Pay Services to process a Transaction to make payment for legitimate and bona fide purposes including purchase of goods and services. You may not use Google Pay Service to process Payment Transactions in connection with the sale or exchange of any illegal goods or services or any other underlying illegal Transaction.

You agree that you will not use the Google Pay Service to process Transactions that violate the Combined Google Pay Terms, Payment Participant Rules, Applicable Law or other policies or rules applicable to Google Pay Services. You should review the Google Pay Policies to understand the rights and obligations that you may have with respect to your Google Pay Transactions. The Google Pay Policies establish the purposes for which Google Pay Services may not be used to make or receive payments. Failure to comply with the Google Pay Policies and the restrictions thereunder may result in rejection of your Transaction or suspension or termination of your use of Google Pay Service.

If you host Business Pages as part of Google Pay Services, you will not use the Business Pages (a) for illegal purposes, or in support of illegal activities; (b) to promote or facilitate an unlawful transaction or the sale or exchange of any unlawful or prohibited products or services; (c) in connection with content or activities that are deceptive or that are prohibited under the Google Pay Policies , Google Pay Policies for Businesses or the Play Policy; (d) in any way that suggests that your activity is endorsed by Google; (e) in any way that may damage Google's reputation or goodwill; or (f) on in any way that is not compliant with the Applicable Law.

Google may, at any time, require you to certify the compliance with the above, in writing, and you will provide such written certification together with such supporting documents as may be required by Google from time to time.

9. Bill Payment on Google Pay

Bill Presentment. Once you register a Biller on your Google Pay App, You may be able to view your current and future bill details or eligible recharge/subscription plans from that Biller as and when they are available. We auto-fetch billers for all the biller details saved by You if the biller permits us to auto-fetch a bill as and when it is available. If You wish to stop auto-fetching bills for a particular biller, please delete information for that specific biller from Your account. Please ensure that you check your bill details carefully prior to making any payments. In case of any discrepancies, please contact Your Biller.

Scheduling your Bill Payments. Payment realisation time will vary depending upon the Biller you select. When Google Pay receives a payment instruction from you, you authorize us to send instructions to Payments System Providers to debit your Funding Account and remit payment to the said Biller on your behalf. Payments are subject to the policies and procedures of such Billers and Payment Participants. We are not liable for (i) delays in payment realisation by the Biller; (ii) delay, failure or reversal of Transactions; or (iii) your failure to schedule payment dates in a timely manner. You are responsible for any consequences resulting from late payment including the levy of a late fee charge or any other penalty by such Biller.

help you plan your bill payments in time.

Payment History. You may access information about your bill payment requests through the Google Pay App. You should always verify and confirm Your bill payment requests against any statements or payment records provided by the Biller.

Prepaid Recharges. Google Pay facilitates the recharge of Your prepaid mobile, data or other accounts. The actual mobile, data or any other service service is provided by the prepaid service providers like telecommunications service provider whose account You hold ("Prepaid Service Providers"), or by their distributors and aggregators and not by Google Pay. You hereby agree that You will be solely responsible for selecting an appropriate plan as may be offered by the Prepaid Service Providers, and for compliance with its terms. You understand that the plans provided on Google Pay are for reference purposes only. The plans may not be up-to-date and may have changed. You must check with your Prepaid Service Provider for the latest plans and details prior to making a transaction. As an added facility, in order to process your mobile prepaid recharge with accuracy, once You input Your mobile number, Google Pay shares Your mobile number with various telecommunications service providers either directly or via their resellers/distributors to verify the telecommunications service provider You use. Based on this information, we show You the recharge plans and other services that may be applicable to Your mobile number. By providing us Your mobile number to initiate a pre-paid mobile recharge transaction, You expressly authorize us to share your phone number with telecommunication companies to identify Your provider, access available plans, and complete Your transaction.

Autopay on Bill Payments. You may choose to set up recurring payments of Your bill payment account or recharge of prepaid service using Autopay. Successful execution of Autopay is subject to policies and procedures of such Billers and Payment Participants. You further agree that Google Pay will not be liable for any failure on the part of any Biller or Payment Participant in effecting a recharge or other bill payment or for any issue related to the quality of service provided by the Biller, and any dispute relating to the same shall be resolved directly between You and the Biller. You can also pause or cancel an active Autopay at any time through the Autopay settings available on the Google Pay App.

Ad-hoc Bill Payments. You may also choose to enter an ad-hoc amount for bill payment or recharging, however acceptance of it will be solely at the discretion of the Biller. You are responsible for the accuracy of the details entered by You to make a payment or recharge your account. You further agree that Google Pay will not be liable for any failure on the part of any Biller in effecting a recharge or other bill payment or for any issue related to the quality of service provided by the Biller, and any dispute relating to the same shall be resolved directly between you and the Biller.

Refunds. Refund of payment amount for bill payment including mobile recharge or for any payment debited from your account for which the bill payment or recharge is not delivered, will be solely as per the terms or policies of the Biller, and you agree that Google Pay will not be responsible for the same.

Flex Credit Cards on Google Pay. By applying and availing Flex Credit Card from the issuer bank through Google Pay, You agree to be bound by the following terms and conditions:

- Activation of Flex on Google Pay: The activation of Flex Credit Cards will follow the same procedure as mentioned in section 15 (RuPay Credit Card via UPI) below.
- Transactions scope and capabilities: Flex Credit Cards can be used to make permissible transactions as decided by the agreement between you and the issuer bank.
- Reward Point Program: The reward points earned by You using Flex Credit Card will be a part of Google's Loyalty Program (as provided in Section 11 above) and the rewards will be provided to You in the form of Stars. The Stars will only be earned on the eligible Merchant Category Codes (MCC) (as communicated by the issuer bank) and the program and the redemption of Stars for Flex Credit Card will be managed as per the terms here.
- Applicability of the Reward Program: The rewards program applies to all the modes of transactions made using the Flex Credit Card subject to restrictions under the MCCs as provided by the issuer bank here.
- Limit and validity of the Stars: The maximum number of Stars that can be earned in a Reward Cycle and their validity depends upon the issuer bank and is provided here for your reference.
- Reward Cycle: You understand that the Rewards Cycle will be set as the default billing cycle offered by the Issuer Bank, which will be from 16th of every month to 15th of next month and the Reward Cycle can not be changed by You.
- Fair usage: You agree that the Flex Credit Card and any related services shall not be misused by you. If Google or the issuer bank determines, in its sole discretion, that you are misusing the card or its services, or using the card for any prohibited or restricted purposes as provided by the issuer bank, or are in breach of these terms set by Google, Google reserves the right to suspend your loyalty program as deemed fit. The issuing bank may further suspend or block your Flex Credit Card account in such instances. Google also reserves the right to deduct earned Stars or change your earning tier (as provided above under the Reward Point Program section) based on transactions deemed to violate fair usage policies as per Google or the issuer bank.
- Dispute resolution and the refunds: All requests arising out of the payment transactions using Flex Credit Card linked on Google Pay shall follow the same process as prescribed under the Dispute section (Section 21) in these terms below. That said, in addition to Google support, You may also reach out to the issuing bank for such requests and your requests will be resolved based on the nature of the concern. To clarify, Google also reserves the right to deduct earned Stars or change your earning tier (as provided above under the Reward Point Program section) based on cancellations or refunds of transactions. In case you have already redeemed Stars earned from such transactions, and there are no sufficient Stars to be deducted as a part of the refunded transaction, your Star balance may become negative.

through Google Pay, as detailed above, b) The reward points are non-transferable and cannot be redeemed for cash or equivalents outside what is explicitly permitted by Google, c) Google reserves the right to terminate or modify the rewards programs at any time, including the value of or expiry date for Stars, without any liability to Users.

14. UPI Lite Services on Google Pay

UPI Lite is a service facilitated by NPCI and enabled on Google Pay app through which You can make low value payment transactions, without entering UPI PIN, upto the limit prescribed in 'usage and settlement' section below using your UPI Lite account ("UPI Lite"). UPI Lite is solely offered as a service and not a new account or wallet on Google Pay app. You understand that If you change your mobile device, you will be able to continue to access your UPI Lite account balance from the new device provided you are using the same phone number, and bank account.

your UPI Lite account via your linked bank account that supports UPI Lite ("Bank Account"). The registration for UPI Lite will be deemed complete when You successfully enter and validate your UPI PIN and the money is added to your UPI Lite account. You understand that only one single Bank Account, that supports UPI Lite, can be used to link to UPI Lite on Google Pay app.

Usage and settlement: You can make a payment transaction to a peer or merchant for a maximum of Rs. 500 using your UPI Lite account. The total daily usage limit of UPI Lite account shall be restricted to Rs. 4000 enabling a maximum of Rs 2000 that can be added twice a day. You understand that:

1. NPCI may revise the aforesaid usage limits in its sole discretion from time to time without any prior intimation to You.
2. UPI Lite account is only a virtual 'on device' balance and a reflection of UPI Lite balance allocated by You. No interest will be paid to You on UPI Lite account balance.
3. Actual money or funds with respect to your UPI Lite account are held and maintained solely by your issuing bank;
4. UPI Lite account can solely be used for debit transactions and all credit transactions (including refunds, etc.) will be processed in your Bank Account.
5. UPI Lite account can not be used for peer to peer collect requests, auto pay and international payment transactions.
6. For any payment transaction up to Rs 500 (subject to the total daily usage limit of Rs 4000), your UPI Lite account will be default used provided your UPI Lite account is available with sufficient funds.

De-registration: You can disable UPI Lite services at any time from Google Pay app. Once disabled, the unutilised UPI Lite balance will be credited to your Bank Account by your Issuing Bank. You understand that:

1. If You have a pre-existing balance in UPI Lite account and your Bank Account gets closed, You will be able to spend the pre-existing balance in your UPI Lite account.
2. If You change your mobile device or your mobile device gets lost, the available balance of the UPI Lite account will not be eligible to be reclaimed in your new device as a new UPI Lite account will be created for the new device. If you are changing your mobile device, You should ensure you disable your UPI Lite account from our old device and move the UPI Lite balance back to your bank account. If you fail to disable UPI LITE from your old phone/device then your Issuing Bank will not be able to move the available UPI LITE balance back to your Account. However, if you inform the issuing bank for the same, your issuing bank will try on a best efforts basis to refund any available UPI LITE balance to your account. You understand that Google, NPCI or your issuing bank will not be liable for any loss of money in your UPI Lite account due to occurrence of any of the said scenarios.

Chargeback: Any refund or chargeback requests under a UPI Lite transaction shall follow the same process as prescribed for under Refunds and Chargeback section in these Google Pay Terms.

Security of the UPI Lite Account:

1. You are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your Google Pay app and other details associated with UPI Lite transactions and You are solely responsible for all activities that occur under your mobile phone(s) on which UPI Lite is enabled.
2. You shall not hold NPCI/Google responsible for any unauthorized transactions made from your Google Pay account using UPI Lite.

with the UPI Lite terms.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the UPI Lite terms herein, NPCI/Google reserves the right to deny the enablement of UPI Lite to You, suspend access to or terminate your User account on Google Pay app, at any time in its sole discretion and without any prior notice or liability to You or any other person.

15. RuPay Credit Card via UPI

You can link your RuPay credit card on Google Pay as an alternate method to make payments to merchants in a similar manner as you link your savings bank account on Google Pay. In order to link your RuPay credit card, when you choose RuPay credit card on the payment methods page and the concerned bank with whom you have an existing credit account, you will be required to verify with the issuing bank, the last 6 digits of your RuPay credit card with the validity details (in MMYY format) in order to create a UPI Pin (MPIN). The MPIN will be used to authenticate transactions every time you choose your credit account as a form of payment on Google Pay app to pay merchants. Once you have linked your RuPay credit card on Google Pay, you can choose the said credit card to make payments to merchants by scanning the UPI QR codes and authenticating the transactions using your MPIN. To clarify, this functionality is only limited to payments to merchants who accept payments via RuPay credit card on UPI. Transactions related to cash withdrawal at merchant, Peer to Peer Payments, P2PM, card to card payments will not be permitted through this functionality.

Transaction limit. Transaction through this process will follow UPI standard transaction limits which may change from time to time as per the Applicable Law.

Disputes. All requests arising out of the payment transactions using RuPay credit account shall follow the same process as prescribed under the Dispute section in these terms below.

"UPI Circle" means the feature that enables a Primary User to authorize a Secondary User to link his/her UPI ID with the UPI ID of such Primary User and to make UPI payments/transactions, on a Full Delegation or Partial Delegation basis. In case of Full Delegation, Primary User can assign the maximum limit to Secondary User for making such payments/transactions (i.e. the maximum amount of funds that can be utilized from the bank account held in the name of Primary User for making the aforesaid UPI payments/transactions).

"Full Delegation" means the method/mode using which a Primary User can authorize a Secondary User to initiate and complete UPI Circle transactions as per defined maximum spends limits.

"Partial Delegation" means the method/mode using which a Primary User can authorize a Secondary user to initiate and complete a UPI Circle based transaction subject to Primary User authorizing the said transaction by entering his/her UPI PIN.

"Secondary User" means a user of UPI who is authorized by Primary User to make UPI Circle transactions from the bank account of Primary User linked to UPI.

You understand, agree, confirm and undertake that:

1. For Primary User:
    - You shall be solely responsible to verify and validate the UPI ID and mobile number of the Secondary User before linking his/ her UPI ID with your UPI ID and authorize him / her to make UPI transactions under UPI Circle, to ensure that the correct person is authorized as Secondary User.
    - You can modify or revoke the authorization granted to Secondary User for UPI Circle.
    - You will have access to and visibility of all the transactions made by Secondary User under the UPI Circle.
    - You represent that you are aware of the identity of the Secondary User and shall, in the course of using UPI Circle, comply with the laws of India as applicable.
    - You shall be solely responsible for all transactions and actions performed by Secondary User added/ authorized by you under UPI Circle. You shall not hold NPCI or Google Pay responsible for any unauthorized transactions made by your Secondary User using UPI Circle. NPCI or Google Pay shall not be held liable by you or any other person for any losses, damages and liabilities which may arise as a result of any act or omission by you or by the Secondary User in complying with any terms and conditions applicable to UPI Circle.
    - In the event no transactions are carried through Google Pay App using UPI Circle for such period as may be prescribed from time to time, the relevant Secondary User's authorization to conduct UPI Circle transactions may be suspended or terminated.
2. For Secondary User:
    - By accepting the request to link your UPI ID to the UPI ID of the Primary User under UPI Circle, you hereby agree to share your name, phone number, UPI ID and transaction details with the Primary User and other third parties involved in the processing of UPI Circle transactions.
    - You can de-link your UPI ID with the Primary User at any time.
3. Other Terms:
    - At any point in time a maximum limit of ₹15000 per month is allowed for making transactions through UPI Circle in Full Delegation.
    - At any point of time maximum limit of ₹5000 is allowed per transaction for making transactions through UPI Circle in Full Delegation.
    - Under Full Delegation a Secondary User's UPI ID can be linked with the Primary User's UPI ID for a maximum term of 5 years and a minimum term of 1 month.
    - After successful authorization and linking of the UPI ID of the Secondary User with the Primary User, there will be a cooling period of 30 minutes during which no transaction shall be allowed to be initiated.
    - Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the UPI Circle Terms, Google Pay reserves the right to suspend or terminate your access to UPI Circle services, or require you to change your App password or UPI PIN, at any time in its sole discretion and without any prior notice to you.

You can build your profile by manually adding these details or by securely fetching limited demographic details such as Name, Gender, Date of Birth, and Address from Your Aadhaar credential saved in Google Wallet through the Google Pay app.

Saved details within your Google Pay Profile will be used to personalize your experience and provide relevant services and offers, including loans, credit card offers, financial services, and to prefill product applications on Google Pay.

The Privacy Policies describes how your data is stored and handled. You can edit or delete your data at any time.

18. Gold Account

Limits on holding or Purchase of Gold. Google may impose limits on the amount of Gold that is held in your GAP account or the amount you could transact on GPay to accumulate Gold in your GAP account.

Suspension and Termination of GAP Accounts. Google reserves the right, in our sole and absolute discretion, to (a) suspend access to Your Gold Account; or (b) request MMTC to terminate your GAP Account, without notice and without liability to you or any third party, for any reason, including submission of incorrect KYC details, fraud, violation of these Combined Google Pay Terms or other policies we may establish from time to time. In such event, Google may take any action it deems necessary including crediting Your bank account and having MMTC repurchase Your Gold.

Hosting Information. Google will display such information on Google Pay, from time to time, as may be provided and updated by MMTC in relation to the Gold for general information purposes. Google shall neither be liable nor be responsible for the accuracy of such information which is provided by MMTC.

Payment Transaction. All Payment Transactions initiated on the Gold Account shall be subject to the Combined Google Pay Terms. For avoidance of doubt, Google will provide the technology integration of the GAP with Your Google Account on Google Pay. However, all Gold Transactions are conducted between You and MMTC only. Google shall neither be responsible nor liable for any losses arising out of or in relation to any Gold Transaction.

Storage of Information. By opening a Gold Account on Google Pay, You expressly authorize Google Pay to access, use and store Gold transaction information and other information related to Your Gold Account on an ongoing basis for the purpose of providing you with services on Google Pay.

19. Communication services

You are able to send messages via Google Pay. You are responsible for any communication made by you with other service providers, Users, Merchants, or Billers through Google Pay. Google merely provides the platform to enable you and other service providers, Users, Merchants or Billers to communicate with each other (Communication Platform) and is not responsible for any conversation between the parties. You must ensure that no illegal, unlawful or unauthorised communication is delivered through Google Pay. The content of the communication must comply with these Combined Google Pay Terms and in particular, the Google Pay Policies. You agree not to make any offers, promotions or advertisements to other Users directly through the Communication Platform. Google reserves the right to suspend or terminate your use of Google means, to collect, store, use, access your Google Pay communications for the purposes outlined in Section 22.

20. Offers

Google Pay Offers. Your participation in Google Pay offers is subject to the General Google Pay Offers Terms. For referral offers or bonus quests therein run on Google Pay, both referrer and referee will be eligible for rewards as communicated by Google. Referrers will earn rewards as communicated by Google based on their referees completing eligible transactions. You understand that if you have been referred by an existing Google Pay user/referrer and you choose to participate in referral offer/bonus quests by using Google Pay, the completion and progress status of the eligible transactions of the referral offer/bonus quest will be shared with the referrer ensuring the progress towards earning the reward can be shared with the referrer to ensure transparency. You further understand that referral offers are only valid for users with Indian mobile numbers that start with +91 country code.

Merchant/Biller Offers. Offers provided to you by Merchants or Billers on Google Pay are between you and the Merchant or Biller, Google is not responsible for the content of such Offers or for the fulfilment of such offers.

21. Refunds, Chargebacks, and Disputes

Refunds and Chargebacks. Except as set forth in these Combined Google Pay Terms, all Transactions processed through the Google Pay Services are non-refundable to the Sender by Google Pay and are non-reversible by the Sender through the Google Pay Services. You may have additional refund or chargeback rights under your Payment Instrument issuer agreement or under applicable regulations. You should review the statements you receive from the issuer of your Payment Instrument which should reflect all Transactions through the Google Pay Services.

In the event that the Sender's Payment Instrument issuer requests a chargeback for a Transaction, Google reserves the right to reverse the Transaction amount. Google further retains the rights to set-off any chargeback amount from subsequent payments to be transferred to the Recipient.

Disputes. You understand that a payment Transaction is solely between the Sender and the Recipient and Google does not provide any guarantees or warranties with respect to any User, Biller, Merchant, third party or any service, good or delivery level commitment provided by such User, Biller, Merchant or third party. Use of Google Pay Services in no way represents any endorsement by Google of any User, Biller, Merchant or third party. You should ensure that you have undertaken adequate due diligence prior to transferring payments to anyone using Google Pay Services. Any dispute is between the Sender and Recipient without making Google and/or the Payments System Providers, a party to such disputes. However, in relation to UPI Payment Transactions, we are responsible for facilitating grievances / complaints resolution for Users. We shall be the first point of contact for all UPI Payment Transaction related grievances/complaints for Users. In case the complaint or grievance remains unresolved, the next level for escalation will be the PSP, followed by the Customer's Bank and lastly NPCI. After exercising these options you can approach the Banking Ombudsman and or the Ombudsman for Digital Complaints, as the case may be.

processing and/or settlement of funds, Google's role will be limited to providing the payment instructions to the Payments System Provider. Google will neither be responsible for the processing or settlement of the Transaction nor for any delivery or service fulfilment, provided Google may, in certain circumstances, act as a payment collection agent for the Recipient for the limited purpose of receiving funds on the Recipient's behalf. It is your responsibility to ensure that the correct information has been provided by you or that you have selected the correct Recipient.

Google is not obligated to mediate disputes between Senders and Recipients or between the Sender/Recipient and the Payment Participants. However, Google will assist Users in communicating with each other regarding a dispute or in sending the User's complaint to the respective Payment Participant, if required under Applicable Laws or Payment Participant Rules. In the event of any complaints regarding Google Pay Services, please contact Google and we will work with you to resolve it, where possible.

Waiver and Release. You agree to release Google and Group Companies, and their agents, contractors, officers and employees, from all claims, demands and damages (actual and consequential) arising out of or in any way connected with a dispute. You agree that you will not involve Google in any litigation or other dispute arising out of or related to any transaction, agreement, or arrangement with any Recipient, Sender, advertiser or other third party in connection with the Google Pay Service. If you attempt to do so, (i) you shall pay all costs and attorneys' fees of Google, and Group Companies and shall provide indemnification as set forth below, and (ii) the jurisdiction for any such litigation or dispute shall be limited as set forth below. However, nothing in these Combined Google Pay Terms shall constitute a waiver of any rights, claims or defenses that you may have with respect to a Payment Transaction under the respective Payment Participants Rules or Applicable Laws.

22. Fraud or Unauthorized Use

All Transactions made or instructions provided through Your Google Account on Google Pay shall be deemed to be provided by You. You will be solely responsible for any unauthorised access or use of Your personal or financial information through Your Google Account on Google Pay. To help prevent unauthorised use of your Google Account on Google Pay, You should comply with the security measures recommended by Google. If you believe your Google Account on Google Pay has been accessed or used in an unauthorised manner, please contact Customer Service immediately.

23. Risk Monitoring: Unusual or Suspicious Transactions

We may monitor your Transactions for high-risk practices or for fraudulent transactions. We may also engage Third Party Providers or other service providers to assist in these efforts and other elements of Google Pay Services. If we have reason to believe that there is suspicious or unusual activity being carried out through your Google Account on Google Pay, we may temporarily or permanently suspend your access to Google Pay Services.

We and/or the Payment Participants may reject a Transaction and/or settlement of payments for various reasons, including but not limited to risk management, suspicion of fraudulent, illegal or doubtful Transactions, selling of prohibited items, use of compromised or blacklisted cards or BHIM UPI accounts, Google Accounts on Google Pay, chargebacks/complaints or for other reasons as prescribed in the Payment Participant Rules. In the event that a Transaction is rejected or is unable to be completed, we will either

In addition, we may take any such action on a Google Account on Google Pay as may be required by a statutory or governmental authority or as may be mandated by the respective Payment Participant.

24. AI-Powered Financial Assistant & Analytical Services

24.1. Nature of Service

Google and its affiliates provide an Artificial Intelligence-powered chatbot (the "AI Assistant") on Google Pay to assist Users with financial data organization, spend analysis, hypothetical portfolio optimizations, and retrieval or summarization of independent third-party market information.

- Informational Purpose Only: You acknowledge that the AI Assistant is intended solely to enhance user experience and all responses, suggestions, and analyses provided by the AI Assistant are generated by automated algorithms, may not be reviewed by any human, and are for informational and educational purposes only.
- Not Professional Advice: The AI Assistant does not provide, is not intended to provide, and should not be construed as providing legal, tax, investment, or professional financial advice research analysis, personalized financial recommendations or robo-advisory services. The AI Assistant may not have access to real-time market data or all of the user's external accounts, making the responses or analysis potentially incomplete.
- Google is not acting as a Securities and Exchange Board of India ("SEBI"-) registered Investment Adviser or a financial planner through this feature.
- No Scheme Selection or Curation: Any output generated by the AI Assistant regarding mutual fund scheme, historical returns, or performance metrics is a mechanical processing of data provided by Advisors. The AI Assistant does not filter, rank, or select mutual fund schemes based on user-specific profiles, and does not perform active portfolio construction. The AI Assistant generates outputs based on the specific prompts, data, and inputs provided by You. However, You should not consider such responses customized or tailored advice.

24.2. Accuracy and "As-Is" Basis

- No Guarantee of Accuracy: While the AI Assistant strives for accuracy, AI technology is subject to "hallucinations" or errors. Google does not make any representations or warranty, whether express or implied, that the output of the AI Assistant, including spend analysis, budget categorizations, or portfolio suggestions are accurate, adequate, complete, reliable, authentic, correct, up-to-date or otherwise fit for a particular purpose. Google further makes no representations or warranties regarding the timeliness, merchantability or continued availability of any response or output generated by the AI Assistant.
- User Verification: You are solely responsible for independently evaluating and verifying any information provided by or responses generated by the AI Assistant before making any financial decisions. Do not rely on the AI Assistant for financial actions.

24.3. Limitations of Liability of the user's external accounts. Google is not liable for any financial losses, missed opportunities, or incorrect tax filings resulting from your reliance on the AI Assistant.

- No Fiduciary Duty: Your use of the AI Assistant does not create a fiduciary, advisory, or agency relationship between you and Google.

24.4. User Responsibilities

- Input Integrity: You agree not to input sensitive personal credentials such as PINs, OTPs, or passwords into the AI Assistant interface.
- Prohibited Use: You shall not use the AI Assistant to engage in any illegal or fraudulent activity or to attempt to reverse-engineer the underlying financial algorithms.
- Independent verification: You must independently evaluate all information or responses generated by the AI Assistant. You should not solely rely on the Financial Assistance provided by the AI Assistant and should consult a SEBI registered investment adviser, financial adviser, or other qualified professional before making any investment or financial decisions.

25. Discover

Google now lets you discover a personalized selection of products, like lifestyle and fashion products, as part of Google Pay Services, if you choose to avail this service ("Discover").

Discover enables you to browse products and YouTube videos based on popular trends and your individual preferences. The service also includes a virtual try-on tool to help you visualize products.

Generated Content:

To facilitate various features like the stylist tool, the virtual try-on experience, and the visualization of merchant products in context, Discover utilizes generative Artificial Intelligence. This technology is integrated into the platform to create content for these services ("Generated Content"). By using Discover, you agree to the following terms:

Disclaimers:

Generated Content, is strictly for illustrative and visualization purposes to show how items might look in context. This content may not accurately reflect reality or product details with perfect accuracy, as actual garments may vary in person due to factors like fabric drape, textures, lighting conditions, manufacturing tolerances, variations in physical materials, body shape and personal features.

The try-on output can help you see how an item might look, but it does not indicate fit, suggest a size or indicate size availability from the merchant. Because the try-on output is purely an approximation, you should not rely solely on it when making purchasing decisions. Always refer to standard size charts, customer reviews, and product details on the product page to choose the best size for you, regardless of the size shown in the visualization.

Google is not the seller of any products available through the platform, and all transactions take place exclusively between you and the respective merchant. Consequently, Google assumes no liability for differences between the Generated Content and the actual product received, neither endorses nor advertises the items shown, and assumes no responsibility for associated services such as delivery. Any product related concerns or grievances, including refund requests, returns, or issues stemming from a discrepancy between the try-on simulation and the physical item, must be resolved directly with the merchant.

You understand that all mutual fund related information, including but not limited to scheme details, NAVs, returns, holdings, ratios, analytics, comparisons, ratings, classifications, and other content related to securities ("Information") is displayed strictly on an “as is” basis, solely for general informational and educational purposes.

Source of Information. You understand that the Information displayed on the Google Pay App is sourced entirely from Advisors, each of which operate as independent third parties.

Google Role. You acknowledge and understand that Google’s role is limited to providing a display interface and it does not independently create, prepare, verify, validate, modify, endorse, certify, or guarantee any Information made available on the Google Pay App. Google does not exercise any editorial control, supervisory oversight, or independent due diligence over the Information. Any opinions, analytics, rankings, ratings, categorizations, insights, calculations, or other informational content displayed on the Google Pay App are solely those of Advisors and are not provided by Google. Google is not responsible for assessing the suitability, appropriateness, or risk profile of any investment for any User and does not undertake any obligation to provide personalized advice or risk/suitability assessments. The display, or categorization of mutual fund schemes on the interface is determined mechanically based in data feeds from Advisors and does not constitute a curated list, endorsement, or ranking of any scheme of an Asset Management Company by Google.

AI Assistant Interactions. The AI Assistant (please see Section 24) may also facilitate your interaction with, and search for, the mutual fund Information available on the Google Pay App. For this purpose, You acknowledge that:

- The AI Assistant operates strictly as a conversational search and data summarization tool processing data feeds from Advisors;
- The AI Assistant is a purely automated technology tool that generates responses based on Information sourced from Advisors and your inputs.
- Responses are generated algorithmically, do not constitute personalized financial or investment advice, and do not consider your specific investment objectives, financial situation, risk appetite, or suitability requirements; and
- The AI Assistant does not filter, rank, prefer or select mutual fund schemes or perform active portfolio construction.

Not Professional Advice. Google does not provide investment advice, research analysis, recommendations, financial advice, or invitation to buy, sell, subscribe to, or deal in any securities, mutual funds, or other financial products. Google is not registered with SEBI including as a SEBI registered investment adviser, research analyst, portfolio manager, or mutual fund distributor in relation to the Information displayed on the Google Pay App. Users are solely responsible for independently verifying all Information and for evaluating the merits and risks associated with any investment decision.

Data Limitations and Market Risks. All Information available on the Google Pay App may be subject to delays, technical inaccuracies, system limitations, typographical errors, interruptions, incomplete updates, or other defects and may not reflect real-time market conditions or current values. NAVs, returns, market-linked data, and performance-related information may be delayed and are subject to revision or change without notice. Past performance is not indicative of future results and mutual fund investments are subject to market risks, including the possible loss of principal.

merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, or continued availability of any Information. Any errors, omissions, inaccuracies, delays, stale values, incorrect computations, interruptions, or deficiencies in such Information shall be solely attributable to Advisors, and Google expressly disclaims any and all liability arising therefrom. In no event shall Google be liable for the acts/omissions of Advisors or for any investments.

Limitation of Liability. Notwithstanding anything contained in these Google Pay Terms, to the fullest extent permissible under Applicable Law, Google, its directors, officers, employees, agents, contractors, licensors, and technology partners shall not be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, punitive, exemplary, or consequential losses or damages whatsoever, including without limitation, any financial loss, investment loss, loss of profits, loss of opportunity, loss of business, loss of data, or reputational harm arising out of or in connection with the use of, reliance upon, inability to use, or interpretation of any Information displayed on the Google Pay App. Google further disclaims all liability arising from any act, omission, negligence, fraud, misconduct, breach, default, inaccuracy, or failure attributable to Advisors. Users acknowledge that any reliance placed on the Information available on the Google Pay App shall be entirely at their own discretion and risk.

27. Privacy and Communications

Privacy. In addition to other clauses in the Combined Google Pay Terms, you agree and specifically consent that we may collect, store, and use your personal data and any communications made through Google Pay, in accordance with Applicable Laws, and our Privacy Policy, which explains how we treat your personal data and protect your privacy when using Google Pay. In addition to our Privacy Policy, the paragraph below details the use of UPI Transaction Data and Loan Application Data.

UPI Transaction Data:

Google may share your payments related information, including UPI Transaction Data, with Merchants, Banks, Third Party Providers and service providers as required for the purpose of operations, settlement payment processing, and promoting Google Pay Services.

Your UPI Transaction Data will not be used for any monetisation purpose (eg. for advertisements) by any entity other than Google (in other words, Google India Digital Services Private Limited).

If you are a Recipient, you agree and specifically consent that Google may store your information including bank account number on Google Pay for the purpose of sending you payments.

You agree and specifically consent that Google may, through automated means, access your Google Pay navigational, log, and correspondence information/data. This information/data will help us analyze the merchants, markets, technology, operating systems, browsers, devices, locations from/for which our Google Pay Services are used. For example, such information and its analysis will help us to better understand your needs and provide you with a wider range of services, or developing updates for particular operating systems and mobile application versions, etc. The information collected also helps us offer you other products, programs, or services including Offers as provided by Merchants or Billers that we believe may be of interest to you or alert you in case of software compatibility issues.

services from Google Pay. For example: OTP is a one-time password which is provided by your issuing bank in order to carry out the second factor authentication. If you allow us to access your messages, you understand that we may retrieve your OTP from the message received on your mobile device/number and populate and submit the OTP for second factor authentication.

You represent that you have obtained all requisite prior consents and waivers necessary from any third party or Recipients and have provided such third party or Recipient with notice to permit Google, Group Companies and Payment Participants to carry out actions described in this paragraph. You further warrant that you will provide such notices and secure such necessary consents and waivers in advance of providing similar information to Google in the future.

If you choose to delete or wipe-out any information or data from Google Pay or your Google Account or you or Google choose to terminate the use of your Google Account or Google Pay Services, you understand that we may still retain, use and/or disclose such information/data for legal reasons detailed in the Google Privacy Policy.

The Google Privacy Policy explains how we treat your personal data and protect your privacy when using Google Pay.

Ads on Google Pay and Your Data

Some of the ads displayed on Google Pay are sourced through Google Ads platform where Google Pay acts as a publisher when ads are displayed on Google Pay ("Google Ads").
